

OFFICERS FIND ONLY "DRY" BEER

Louis Wein, Anti-Saloon League Detective Has McCormic Restaurant Raided by Sheriff.

CLAIMS THAT HE BOUGHT BEER

In Affidavit Says He Paid Ten Cents for One Bottle—Waiting for Analysis.

On an affidavit and search warrant filed this morning by Louis Wein, a "dry" detective of the Louis Wein Detective Agency, Indianapolis, Sheriff Bebout and Deputy Sheriff Kinnear arrested James McCormic and Eddie Geraghty and made a thorough search of the McCormic restaurant in West Second street.

The officers failed to find any beer but took twenty-four cases of "dry" beer away with them. The cases were labeled "dry" beer and Tonic, a product of the Indianapolis Brewing company. The search warrant was filed before Squire Kratzer and McCormic and Geraghty will not be arraigned until after several samples of the "dry" beer are analyzed by the state chemist.

The raid on the McCormic restaurant came as a surprise and few people were aware of what was going on until a dray was backed in the alley and the cases were loaded and taken to the jail. Wein, the detective, in the affidavit states that he purchased one bottle of beer at the McCormic restaurant yesterday paying ten cents for it. He alleges that both Geraghty and McCormic were selling liquor contrary to the law.

The affidavit was filed before Squire Kratzer this morning shortly after nine o'clock and was turned over to the sheriff to serve. Together with his deputy, the sheriff went to the McCormic place and took charge. The front door was locked and a search of the first and second floor was made. All that the officers found was the cases of bottles labeled "dry" beer. The cases were of the three dozen size and only the full cases were taken. A number of empty cases and bottles were not touched.

The restaurant was again opened for business immediately after the cases were loaded on the dray. Wein came here yesterday in company with a woman and while a great number of people saw them on the streets none recognized him as a detective. He left the city this morning after filing the affidavit.

Wein is a small, heavy built man with a black mustache. He wore a black felt hat and eye glasses. The detective is in the employ of the Anti-saloon league and according to officers of the local civic league whatever he does here will be done under the directions of that organization. The anti-saloon league has employed him for a number of years.

It may be several days before the samples of the goods found at the McCormic restaurant are analyzed. Local officers are of the opinion that Wein will have a hard case to prove should the analysis show that all the goods seized by the sheriff was "dry" beer.

SMALL ARTERY CUT.

As Lon Kennedy, rural mail carrier, stepped out of the back door at his home in East Ninth street this morning, his foot slipped from under him and he fell heavily on the steps. A small artery in his right wrist was cut and he lost a quantity of blood. He was unable to go over his route today. The big artery in his wrist narrowly missed being severed.

HE WEARS A STRAW HAT

Distinguishing Mark Greensburg Police Place on Fugitive.

The police today were asked today by the chief of police at Greensburg to watch for a printer who gives the name of McConklin. The Greensburg officer said he was wanted in Greensburg for "beating" a board bill. McConklin wears a straw hat, which might be a distinguishing mark now. He is a very large man. He is said to be accompanied by two women, whom he represents to be his wife and mother. The Greensburg police said it was his habit to work a week and then depart, leaving all debts behind. The Greensburg thief thought McConklin came here.

CONTAINERS MUST BE INSPECTED

State Law Compels Express Agents to See That They Are Not Returned Uncleaned.

VIOLATIONS ARE ALLEGED

Practically all express companies operating in Indiana have replied to a warning sent out by H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, in which he called attention to alleged violations of the law passed by the 1913 legislature, which provided that cream, milk and ice cream containers never should be returned to the manufacturer or dairyman uncleaned. Many instances of the violation of this new statute had been reported to Barnard and he decided to notify the express companies that it became their duty not to accept such unclean containers.

Letters from high officials of the express companies told of orders given to all agents in Indiana personally to inspect these food containers before accepting them for reshipment.

TWO ARE ARRESTED FOR BOOTLEGGING

Willard Bennett and Greely Ferguson Face Charge Made by Frank Vance.

ONE CASE IS TRIED TODAY

Greely Ferguson was tried for bootlegging before Mayor Black this afternoon and the case against Willard Bennett on the same charge is to be heard Friday at one o'clock by Howard E. Barrett, who was appointed a special judge by Mayor Black. Ferguson was fined $50 and costs. Frank Vance was the prosecuting witness in both cases.

Vance declared that he bought two half pints of whiskey of Ferguson for fifty cents while standing in the alley back of Kelley's grocery store Monday morning about six o'clock. He said he asked Ferguson for some whiskey and Ferguson said he would get it. He testified Ferguson was gone ten minutes and came back with it. Ferguson denied the whole story. He said Vance asked him to take a drink while they were standing by the court house pump yesterday morning.

In defense of Ferguson, Bennett testified that Vance gave him a drink of whiskey from a half pint bottle Monday morning.

HUSBAND OF A LOCAL GIRL GONE

Raymond Matney, Whose Wife Was Miss Goldie Robertson of This City, Disappears.

NOT SEEN SINCE SATURDAY

Mrs. Matney, Who Was Visiting Here, Expected Her Husband to Come Sunday.

Raymond Matney, whose wife was Miss Goldie Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Robertson of this city, has been missing from his home in Connersville since Saturday night. Mrs. Matney was visiting her parents here and expected her husband to come Sunday and join her in a trip to Indianapolis. The Connersville News says of his disappearance:

Raymond Matney has mysteriously disappeared from the city and his present whereabouts is not known. He was employed as clerk at the Rieman grocery and worked until ten o'clock Saturday night. It is rumored he left the city with two suit cases, getting abroad a late car somewhere on Western avenue. His family were visiting his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, in Rushville.

Mr. Matney was to go to Rushville either Saturday night or Sunday morning and from there he and his wife were going to Indianapolis. As he did not appear yesterday morning his wife became anxious and telephoned to Connersville and was notified that nothing had been seen of her husband since late Saturday night. She then wired to Indianapolis but failed to find a clew to him there. She then called friends here and asked them to go into the home and see if he was ill or dead. A brother and others went to make the search. They found the key in the door and all of Mr. Matney's best clothing gone.

Mrs. Matney returned to Connersville this morning accompanied by her husband's father, John Matney, of Indianapolis. The family say they have nothing to give for publication except that they are as much in the dark as the public is regarding the man's departure.

The wife is said to have no hint of her husband's intentions of leaving. Their domestic life she says had always been happy. She had been at Rushville since the latter part of the week and intended to stay another week.

The absent Mr. Matney has been employed at the Rieman grocery for more than a year, and his services there had always been satisfactory. He seemed to be in good cheer Saturday evening and walked home with Mr. Rieman after the store was closed. He never mentioned leaving to Mr. Rieman or to any of the clerks. His standing both in a business and a social sense was good and it is said he was in no way pressed for money.

The usual rumors which follow in the wake of a man's departure, those of another woman, have not become current in this case. The family and others think there was no illicit infatuation and are, so far as their feelings are known, left absolutely in the dark.

The past year a rather amazing number of husbands have mysteriously left the city. One or two wives also have gone. Some of these parties have returned but the greater number have never been heard from. A peculiar incident about each departure is that no one ever sees the person leave the city. That they go when the cars are running is believed, and at that time usually some passengers are waiting about when the cars stop.

FIRST GUESTS ARRIVE TODAY

Arduous Task of Assigning Conference Visitors to Home Falls on Committee.

ALL TO BE HERE BY WEDNESDAY

First Session Tonight Includes Addresses of Welcome and Response—Enough Homes Offered.

Ministers and others began arriving shortly before noon today for the eighty-second session of the Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church which will open tonight at seven-thirty o'clock at the St. Paul's church, corner of Fifth and Morgan streets.

Four hundred or more visitors are expected to come this evening and tomorrow. One of the most arduous tasks of the meeting is the locating of all of the visitors in the homes to which they have been assigned. In order to make this work as easy as possible, each minister was taken to the church upon his arrival where he registered and then was handed a card which bore the address of the home where he will stay.

Efforts were to be made to have Rushville seem as hospitable a city as ever acted as host of the Indiana conference, and from the careful plans which have been laid, there seems no doubt but that this impression can be conveyed to the visitors.

The program will open this evening at seven-thirty, when Will M. Sparks will welcome the conference visitors in behalf of the church, and the Rev. C. M. Yocum, pastor of the Main Street Christian church, in behalf of the city. The response will be made by Bishop William F. Anderson of Cincinnati. Dr. V. W. Tevis of this city, superintendent of this district, will preside at the opening session.

Following at eight-fifteen o'clock will come the anniversary of the Epworth League. The address will be made by Dr. Wilbur F. Sheridan of Chicago, secretary of the board. The Rev. L. T. Freeland will preside at this meeting.

The real business of the conference will be started tomorrow morning with the opening session at eight-thirty o'clock. Bishop Anderson will preside and the communion service will be given. Immediately following the memorial service for conference pastors, who have died during the year, will be held and the address will be made by Dr. J. W. Turner of Sandusky, formerly the pastor here. Five members of the conference died since the last meeting. Dr. J. W. Dashiell will preside at this session.

Then the first business session will be held with the roll call and the election of officers for the year. At the pastoral problem hour in the afternoon at one-thirty, Dr. A. B. Storms, pastor of the Central Avenue church in Indianapolis, will speak on the topic, "Methodism and the Country Church."

At two o'clock the anniversary of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extensions will be held, and the address will be given by Dr. C. M. Boswell of Philadelphia, the secretary. At three o'clock the anniversary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society will be held, and the address will be made by Miss Sui Wang, a native of China. At four o'clock the first Hour of Prophecy and Preaching will be conducted by Dr. F. B. Stockdale of Asbury Park, N. J.

The evening meeting at seven-thirty will be in the interest of city evangelization, and was arranged especially by Bishop Anderson who will

SCARES AT MOTORCYCLE

Horse Demolishes Buggy and Throws Occupants Out.

A horse driven by Arthur and Maurice Fuchtmann became frightened Sunday afternoon a mile north of Clarksburg at a motorcycle ridden by B. D. Farthing, overturned the buggy and threw the occupants out, says the Greensburg News. Neither of the boys was seriously hurt, although Arthur received some very painful cuts on his face and arms from glass when pushed through a window of the rig. The storm front was torn off and the horse ran with the remainder of the buggy, stopping when it reached its own home. The animal gave no signs of being frightened until after the motor bike had passed and then suddenly made a desperate effort to get away.

MORRISTOWN MAN DEAD OF GUN WOUND

Succumbs in St. Vincent's Hospital in Indianapolis Following Shooting Sunday.

HIS FRIEND UNDER ARREST

Rosecoe Morris, age twenty-three years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Morris of Morristown, died at St. Vincent's hospital in Indianapolis today from wounds inflicted by a revolver bullet fired by Sherman Courtwright, age twenty-two, a fellow boarder, at the John Anderson boarding house in Shelbyville Sunday at noon.

Courtwright was arrested two hours after the shooting and is held for a grand jury investigation. He insists that the shooting was accidental. Both men admitted they had been drinking. Courtwright fired the gun in the alley near the boarding house and then went to his room and called Morris in. Two eyewitnesses say Courtwright declared he was going to shoot a hole in a pair of trousers hanging on the wall and suddenly changed his aim and fired at Morris. The ball entered Morris' bowels and there was never much hope for his recovery.

BALL AND CHAIN MAN LOOSE AGAIN

Theodore Johnson Escapes From County Infirmary But Doesn't Get Very Far.

ONCE WENT TO SHELBYVILLE

Johnson gets the wander-lust about once a year and takes dutch leave of the county farm. He was caught in West Third street by Policeman Wolter and returned to the farm by Sheriff Bebout. Johnson carrying the two iron balls on his shoulder created a great amount of excitement when he paraded through the city. He is harmless. When he stated that he was on his way to see his sister in Arlington.

He left today while Supt. Humes was in the house. The last time Johnson left was about a year ago and that time he got as far as Shelbyville with his ball and chain.

RUTLEDGE MAY HEAD TICKET

Dope Today Was That he Would be Nominated For Mayor by Bull Moosers.

WAS FORMERLY CITY CLERK

Meeting Held Last Night by Leaders Supposedly For Purpose of Fixing Slate.

The present dope on the Bull Moose convention tonight is that they will select John Rutledge, one time Republican city clerk, to head the ticket. That Rutledge will be the candidate for mayor seems certain although the name of Daniel M. Kinney was also mentioned. The Bull Moose leaders, it is known, have made overtures to Rutledge and it is rumored that he will accept the nomination.

Final arrangements for the convention were made last night at a meeting of the party leaders held in the office of J. M. Gwinn. The meeting was attended by John Rutledge, Ed Sherman, Miles Cox, Daniel Kinney, Ben L. McFarlan, B. T. Sampson, John Abercrombie and Capt. Gwinn. The purpose of the meeting, it is stated was to fix the slate for tonight's proceedings. In casting about for a candidate for mayor the Bull Moosers are known to have looked favorably upon John Rutledge, as they figure it would be a suitable candidate for the people because he is well liked, is a business man and has been connected with the city administration before.

While he may not be the candidate selected by the convention, it seemed certain that he would be today. Other names for city officers on this ticket have also been spoken of in this connection the name of James Keating for councilman from the first ward is prominently mentioned. Keating was formerly a Democrat and it is understood that he would run for councilman on the Bull Moose ticket if the nomination was tendered him.

The leaders of the Bull Moosers here would not divulge any "inside" information on the convention or the plans for tonight. The men that attended the meeting last night are known to be the main stays of the party here and all were busy talking convention on the streets and asking men to attend. Several Republicans have been approached and asked to identify themselves with the party. Their argument is that the Republicans are dissatisfied with the party and that they propose to remedy all wrongs. That the leaders already know who is to be nominated seems certain and the slate will no doubt go through.

The Bull Moosers will be the first party to put a ticket in the field for the coming city campaign. The dates for the other nominating conventions have not been set.

TRAIN CITIZENS IN ARTS OF WAR

This Is Secretary Garrison's Latest Idea.

TO CREATE A RESERVE FORCE

The Aim of the War Department is to Get Into the Army the Best Young Men in the Country, Train Them as Rapidly as Possible, and Then Turn Them Back Into Civil Life, Subject to Call in Case of War.

Washington, Sept. 16.—The chief and immediate purpose of Secretary of War Garrison will be to lay the foundation for the building up in the United States of a great reserve of citizens trained in the military arts. The secretary began on this task announcing the general features of his plan immediately upon his return to Washington after his six weeks' trip of inspection of the army posts in all but the northern and New England states.

The secretary believes that the people of the United States as well as the government face the necessity of choosing between two alternatives—either a large standing army, or else the creation of a reserve force of trained men who shall be competent to do their duty as citizens in a war with another nation. The secretary will begin at once upon his task of securing the co-operation of congress. The secretary is confident that congress will gladly co-operate with the war department and the army once the facts of the situation are properly understood.

The aim of the secretary is to get into the army the very best young men of the country, train them as rapidly as possible and then turn them back into civil life, subject to a call to arms in case of war. The secretary favors making an enlistment contract covering the period of three years after actual service with troops is over.

In a few years, it is estimated, a reserve of capable, trained men would be built up aggregating thousands.

Secretary Garrison said that everywhere great interest in the army and its problems was shown, and that the citizens of the places visited assured him that henceforth they would see that their representatives in congress were made aware of the fact that they were interested in it.

Upon his arrival the secretary found a letter revealing a condition which he intends to make it one of his purposes to change. This letter was from John F. McGee, a member of the bench in St. Paul, Minn., and the writer related with some indignation how, after listening to the fine words of citizens of St. Paul, informing the secretary of their devotion to the army, he learned that three cavalry officers had been refused admission to two hotels in Rochester, Minn., because they were in uniform and quite dusty from a ride. Secretary Garrison hopes to put an end to such incidents by bringing the country to realize that the United States army uniform worn by officers or enlisted men, should be regarded only as a badge of honor.

SHOT THE GRIMY LOTHARIO

Indianapolis Physician Probably Fatally Wounds Invader of His Home, and on Way to Police Station to Give Himself Up Ran Over Boy With His Automobile, Inflicting Injuries From Which Lad Probably Will Die.

Indianapolis, Sept. 16.—Joseph Stoudt, thirty years old, is in a precarious condition, according to his attending physician, from a wound suffered when he was caught embracing Mrs. Louise Clayton, twenty-seven years old, wife of Dr. Charles M. Clayton, and shot by Clayton. The shooting occurred at the Clayton home in Brookside avenue.

It is alleged that Stoudt, who drives an oil wagon, called at the Clayton home, and after engaging Mrs. Clayton in conversation, threw his arms around her and kissed her. Dr. Clayton arrived at home at that moment and shot him. After passing through the arm the bullet entered the chest and ranged downward. There is every indication that it penetrated the intestines.

The second victim of the physician, Roy Deetring, son of a widow, may not recover. The Deetring boy was struck by Dr. Clayton's automobile at New Jersey street and Massachusetts avenue while the physician was on his way to police headquarters after having called the police to his home to take him into custody following the shooting. The boy is injured internally. Dr. Clayton was released from the city prison under bond of $1,000. The charge against Dr. Clayton is assault and battery with intent to kill.

REV. HANLEY IS INDICTED

Grand Jury Action in Case of Preacher Who Chastised Father.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 16.—The Vigo county grand jury has returned an indictment against the Rev. Elijah A. Hanley of Franklin, president of Franklin college, charging him with assault and battery on his father, Calvin Hanley, sixty-three years old.

The indictment charges that the Rev. Mr. Hanley committed the assault and battery at the home of his father near Middletown, this county, on Thursday last. It is probable that an immediate hearing will be asked. It is known that bonds will be ready as soon as the amount is set by the court.

The news of the indictment came rather unexpectedly. When the investigation was first ordered it was before the exact status of affairs was known and was based largely on reports from neighbors. When it became known, after the visit of the son to the father Saturday, that they had become reconciled and each had expressed forgiveness for the other, it was thought that the investigation by the grand jury would be dropped, or at least that no indictment would be returned.

BLOW GAMBOA DIKE OCT. 10.

Water to Be Admitted to Culebra Cut Five Days Previous.

There will be nothing spectacular about the blowing out of the Gamboa dike, the embankment which is now the only barrier between the waters of the Gatun lake, Panama canal, and the nearly completed Culebra cut, according to advices received by the Isthmian canal commission.

The dike will be blown out on Oct. 10, according to Colonel Goethals' plan. Five days before that water will be admitted to Culebra cut from the lake by means of pipes already in position underneath the dike. The intention is to get enough water into the cut to act as a cushion when the dike is blown out.

In preparation for the admission of water to the Culebra cut all steam shovel operations will cease in the cut about the middle of September. All material and equipment will be removed before Oct. 1.

SOUTHERN CITY HAS WELCOME FOR G. A. R.

Old Boys In Blue Entertained at Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 16.—The Grand Army of the Republic, for the first time in the history of its organization, is meeting in a southern city, more than 14,000 veterans assembling here for the opening of the forty-seventh encampment strongly testifying to the often manifested opinion that sectional hatred has decreased. Simultaneously several thousand representatives of auxiliary organizations are meeting in this city and the total attendance for encampment week, which concludes Saturday, including visitors, will reach 100,000.

Yesterday was designated as "Lookout Mountain" day. Despite a light continuous rain which began early in the morning, thousands visited the famous battlefield along the side and on the point of Lookout mountain.

The first business meeting of the encampment was when the executive council of the administration convened. Official departmental orders governing the encampment were approved and issued at this meeting. Interest of the veterans already is being manifested in the election of a commander-in-chief to succeed General Alfred B. Beers. Among the names prominently mentioned in this connection are Private Orlando Somers of Kokomo, Ind.; Clair E. Adams of Superior, Neb.; former Representative Washington Gardner of Kalamazoo, Mich., and General J. N. Harrison of the department of Kansas.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 16.—The Union Grain and Coal company suffered a loss of $15,000 when fire destroyed a long building containing rows of stock feed and coal bins. Two years ago the same company suffered a $20,000 fire loss.

At Galesburg, Ill., Max Lillie, the aviator, was killed when his biplane was overturned by a gust of wind when several hundred feet in the air. Enraged because his wife was meeting her divorced husband clandestinely, Harry Shappel of Philadelphia, forty-seven years old, shot and killed her and then killed himself.

Chairman Frank E. Doremus of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, has sent a letter to every Democrat in congress soliciting $100 in each case to be used in campaign work.

Two attempts to hang herself were made in the cell room of the Philadelphia police station by Mrs. William F. Rickert, thirty-two years old, of Pittsburgh, a bride of three weeks, who was arrested for shoplifting in a department store.

The coroner's finding places responsibility for the New Haven wreck on Sept. 2, in which twenty-one persons were killed, on the employees of the two trains that collided, and the company is not held to blame for faulty signal systems or lax methods.

DID SHE REVISIT SCENE OF CRIME?

Woman's Strange Act Discloses Murder Mystery.

Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., Sept. 16.—A trail made by a woman through tangled grass and underbrush in a lonely section between North Yonkers and Hastings near Warburton avenue and the New York Central railroad tracks led to the uncovering of another gruesome murder mystery.

Two boys who saw the woman come out of the strip of woods made an investigation and found the body of a man lying in a bunch of cattails. Near the body was a pair of new tan kid woman's gloves. The body had been there a month or more.

The woman was last seen boarding a streetcar for New York. An alarm has been sent out embodying such a description of her as the boys can give. The woman was middle-aged, with florid complexion and black hair. The woods where she came from is thick, with small trees and high grass and underbrush.

The boys, when they discovered the body, ran back to Warburton avenue, where they met a mounted policeman and told him of their find. The coroner and the police found the body. It had been so long exposed that it was impossible to tell the man's age or appearance.

A search disclosed a silk shirt sleeve tied at either end and filled with stones, lying near the body. There was a hole about three inches in diameter in the left side of the skull, such as a blow from this improvised "sand-bag" might have caused.

Young Huntsman Killed.

DESCRIPTION OF THE NEW MODERN ENGLISH DICTIONARY WITH LATEST UNITED STATES CENSUS:

This most convenient and latest of all Dictionaries is based on the principles embodied in Noah Webster's Dictionary, printed from new type and profusely illustrated in color, revised and brought right up to today by American and English authorities, designed to meet every demand of a modern, reliable Dictionary.

It includes all words in the English language that do not properly belong to a Dictionary of Technical Terms. In fact, its recent publication and careful revision by the greatest authorities in the world enable it to define and treat a large number of words of recent coinage that cannot be found in any other Dictionary, no matter how cumbersome and pretentious.

Surprising results are obtained in looking up the spelling, pronunciation and definition of a host of words which have been incorporated into our language only yesterday, as it were. Take, for instance, Volplane, Aeroboat, Pylon, Cavitation, Biplane, etc., introduced as a result of recent aeronautical activity—also such new words as Brainstorm, Billiken, Cordite, Denatured, Dunnite, Joy Ride, etc.—also Okapi, an animal allied to the Giraffe—also Hookworm, Lettergram, Nickelodeon, Stovaine, Hangar, Equilibrator, etc.

Thus the evidences of painstaking compilation are found on every hand.

School House Lighting.

Public school children's eyes are seriously damaged by poorly lighted schoolrooms. This fact should be remembered in building schoolhouses. Modern school architects and hygienists have worked out some definite plans to conserve eyesight, which should not be forgotten. For instance, in Northern countries, where sunlight is less prevalent than in Southern countries, and where fog, clouds and smoke are common, school rooms should have one-fourth as much window-glass as there is floor space. In Southern countries, where the atmosphere is clear, one-sixth window-glass space is sufficient. The bottom of the windows should be four feet above the floor. Windows should be as numerous as is consistent with safe construction. They should be as far back in the room as possible, and to the left of the pupils. The windows should be contained between iron or steel mullions, and their edges should be rounded, to permit the ingress of light and its useful distribution, and to prevent shadows falling on the desks. As the best light comes from above, the windows should extend to the ceilings. If hills or tall buildings are close to the school, prismatic or ribbed glass should be used in the upper portions of the windows, but not in the lower portions, as too much glare is produced. Sliding or sash blinds should not be used. They are expensive and inefficient. Use double shades, so large that chinks of light cannot enter. They should be fastened in the center of the window and should roll up or down, so that light can be admitted from either above or below. The curtains should be light green in color. Blackboards absorb much light, and should be covered by light curtains on dark days and when not in use.

The Husbands of Edith

By GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON

Copyright by Dodd, Mead & Co.

Mr. Rodney at this point leaped to his feet and rushed over to shake his fist in the face of the insulting hotel man. But Edith Medcroft arose suddenly like a tragedy queen and spoke; her clear, determined voice stilling the turbulent spirit of her outraged host.

"One moment, please," she said. "This all can be satisfactorily explained. No wrong has been done. It will all be cleared up in time. We"—

"In time?" interrupted the manager. "Madam, this is the time. You are here with a man who is not your husband, yet who purports to be such."

"It may throw some light on the matter if I announce that the gentleman in question is my affianced husband." It was Miss Fowler who spoke. Every one stared at her as she moved over to Brock's side.

"If you will look in the office you will find a telegram there for me," went on Mrs. Medcroft, pale, but absolutely confident. The manager called out through the door. Absolute silence reigned while the reply was awaited.

"No telegram for Mrs. Medcroft last night or today," announced the manager sternly as he glanced through the slim bunch of blue envelopes. "There are four here for a Mr. Brock, who has not yet arrived in"—

"Brock!" shouted three voices in one. A tall man, forgetting his English and his evening dress, sprang forward and grabbed the telegrams from the manager's hand. "Holy mackerel! Give 'em here!" he shouted. Two eager, beautiful young women were hanging to his elbows as he ruthlessly broke one of the seals. "The chump! It's from Rox!" They're all from Rox—and they are two or three days old!"

Just then the unexpected happened. The office door opened with a bang, and the real Roxbury Medcroft stepped into the room. He halted just inside the door and looked about in momentary bewilderment.

"This is a private"—began the manager, stepping forward. A flying figure sped past him; a delighted little shriek rang in his ears. He saw Edith Medcroft hurl herself into the arms of her own husband. At the same moment Brock bounded across the room and pounced eagerly upon the welcome intruder.

"This is my husband!" cried Edith, triumph in her voice, tears in her eyes, as she faced the astonished observers. "Now, what have you to say?"

CHAPTER XV.

What? Another Husband.

It was a perfectly natural, but not an especially obvious question. The little manager threw up his hands and cried out in a sad mixture of French, English and Helvetian:

"What? Another husband? Madam, how many more do you propose to inflict us with? We cannot allow it! The management will not permit you to change husbands the instant a new guest arrives in the house. It is not to be heard of—no, no!"

"Are you afraid that the books won't balance?" asked Brock, with a joyous grin, a great load off his heart. "Ladies and gentlemen, permit me to introduce Mr. Roxbury Medcroft, my friend and fellow conspirator. He is the husband of this lady, not I. I am to be the husband of this lady, thank God!"

There was a moment of absolute silence—it may have been stupor. The two audiences faced each other with emotions widely at variance. It was Mrs. Rodney who spoke first.

"Is this true, Edith?" she quavered. "Yes, yes, yes!" cried Edith, her eyes dancing.

"Then, what are you doing here with a man who isn't your husband?" demanded Mrs. Rodney, suddenly aflame.

"I can explain everything to you later on, Mrs. Rodney," interposed Mrs. Odell-Carney calmly. She had divined at least a portion of the truth, and she was clever enough to put herself on the right side. Edith cast an involuntary look of surprise at the Englishwoman.

"I have known everything from the first. Mrs. Medcroft and I are closer friends than you may have thought." She gave Edith a meaningful look and a moment later was whispering to her in a private corner of the private office: "My dear, I don't know what it means, but you must tell me everything as soon as possible. I am your friend. Whatever it is, it's ripping!"

Medcroft finally waved every one aside in the most degage manner imaginable.

"Don't crowd me! Hang it all, I'm not a curiosity. There isn't anything to go crazy about. My friend, Mr. Brock, has just done me a trifling favor. That's all. The whole story will be in the London papers this morning."

"Buy 'em. I'm going up to my wife's room to see my baby. I'll come down and explain everything when I've had a bit of a breathing spell. It's annoying to have had this fuss about a simple little matter of generosity on the part of my friend, who, I've no doubt, has been a most exemplary husband. I'll see to it, by Gad, that he receives the proper apologies. And, for that matter, my wife may have something to say about the outrage that has been perpetrated."

"When did you arrive, old man?" "Last night on the 12:10. I registered as Smith. It was so late that I decided not to disturb Edith. They said in the office that you'd gone to bed. Brock. Now that I recall it, they said it in a very odd way too. In fact, one of the clerks asked if I had it in for you too."

"You were here all night?" murmured Constance in plaintive misery. "Well, not precisely all night, Constance. Half of it," replied Roxbury. "Brock, you ass, I telegraphed you I was coming and asked you to meet me at the station. I telegraphed twice from London and"—

"Don't call me an ass," grated Brock. "Why didn't you send 'em to me as Medcroft? I haven't been Brock until this very morning."

"Pon my soul, Brock, it was rather stupid of me," he confessed sheepishly. "But, you see," with an inspired smile, "one of 'em was to congratulate you on winning Constance. By Jove, you know, I couldn't very well address that one to myself."

"But—but he hadn't won me," stammered Constance Fowler.

"Edith," said Roxbury, deep reproach in his voice. "You wrote me that a week ago." Edith merely squeezed his arm.

Odell-Carney came forward and extended his hand. "Permit me to introduce myself, sir. I am George Odell-Carney. It has given me great pleasure to serve you without knowing you. In my catalogue of personalities you have posed intermittently as a demed bounder, a deceived husband, a betrayed lover, a successful lover and a lot of other things I can't just now recall. Acting on the presumption that you might have been a friend in distress, I worked hard in your interest. Now I discover, to my gratification, you are a perfect stranger, whom I am proud to meet. Permit me to offer my warmest felicitations and to assure you that Mr. Brock will make a splendid brother-in-law." He hesitated a moment and then went on: "So you are the chap that really put in those c'nfended memorial windows. 'Pon me word, sir, they are the rottenest!"

"Carney!" came the sharp reminder from his wife.

"I should have said," revised Mr. Odell-Carney. "You are the chap who played the deuce with the building grafters in the county council. Remarkable!"

"Yes," said Roxbury, striving to grasp something of the situation as it appeared to the other. "We beat them. The bill is lost. It will never go to the council. The subcommittee will not recommend it. Thanks, Brock, old man. You have saved London a good many millions. I daresay. It was you who did it after all."

Before noon the hotel was agog with the full details of the remarkable story. Cabled dispatches in the newspapers gave the gist of the clever trick played by the Medcrofts, and the whole of England was to ring with the stories of Mrs. Medcroft's pluck and devotion.

The management of the hotel improved the Medcrofts to remain—forever! The bank and the police were profuse in apologies and explanations, and Mr. Githens departed by the first train.

Freddie Ulstervelt, killing two birds with one stone, arranged a splendid dinner for that night in honor of the prodigal husband of Edith and also in open compliment to the vivacious Mlle. Le Brun.

Later in the day it occurred to him that he might just as well kill three birds as two, so he planned to announce the betrothal of Miss Fowler and Mr. Brock, the wedding to take place a fortnight hence in Mayfair. The Rodneys were invited to "stop over" for the spread. It is left for the reader to supply the answer to this simple question:

Did they stop over?

THE END.

Price 50 Per Cent Less, Pastor Is Quoted as Saying.

Representative Kinkead of New Jersey has just submitted evidence to congress to substantiate his assertion that American beef was sold cheaper in Europe than in this country by reading a letter to the house from the Rev. J. J. Lawrence of Binghamton, N. Y.

Mr. Lawrence stated that in England recently he bought both American and Argentine beef at prices almost 50 per cent lower than the prevailing American prices.

CABLE DECLARES SCHMIDT INSANE

Was Suspended From Priest-hood In Munich.

HIS ACTS CONFIRM RECORD

Declaring That God and Abraham Will Help Him, Curate Who Murdered Rectory Servant and Cast Her Dis-membered Body Into Hudson River Declines Proffer of Counsel to Defend Him Against Horrid Charge.

New York, Sept. 16.—The assistant curate, Hans Schmidt, formerly with St. Joseph's Catholic church, who cleared up the Hudson river murder mystery by confessing he killed Anna Aumuller, a former servant at the rectory of St. Boniface's Catholic church, is spending his time in comparative quiet and calm in the Tombs with Thomas J. Messemmer, a wife murderer, as his cell mate. He gives up much of his time apparently in prayer. He has told his counsel that there was no need of his services, as God and Abraham would look after his interests.

Mons. Mooney has received a cablegram sent at the instance of the bishop of Mainz, in Germany, that Schmidt had been arrested for attempted fraud in that country and had been declared insane. Shortly after the receipt of this message Miss Anna Hirt, who had been employed as a servant with Anna Aumuller at St. Boniface's rectory, visited the morgue in Hoboken, where she positively identified all that the water has given up of the dismembered girl, as that of her friend Anna. The establishment of the corpus delicti was particularly pleasing to the district attorney's office, as it will simplify the work of prosecuting the priest in the event that Schmidt should recant and declare that there is no truth in his confession, or in case the confession should be thrown out by the courts.

Miss Hirt was sure of the identification because she recognized at once a birthmark on Miss Aumuller's right breast which had heretofore escaped the eyes of the doctors and police. Then again she had no doubt about her identification as soon as she saw the pillowcase in which part of the body had been encased, for the reason that she had made the letter "A," Anna's initial, and had herself done the fancy scroll work. The dead girl's chemise she also recognized.

The cablegram from the Bishop of Mainz which strengthened the belief of the clergymen that Schmidt was insane and not accountable for his act, was signed by the secretary to the Bishop of Mainz and read as follows: "Schmidt born at Aschaffenburg. Priest of diocese of Mainz. Ordained May, 1907. Ran away from Munich because of attempted fraud. Arrested by police. Declared insane by court and dismissed. Suspended for act and for presenting falsified documents regarding studies he pretended to have made. He then left the diocese." Father Luke E. Evers, Catholic chaplain at the Tombs, showed the cablegram to Schmidt in the Tombs. "Isn't it a fact," asked Father Evers, "that you were suspended by the Bishop of Mainz for falsifying documents?" "They believed them false," replied Schmidt, "but God gave them to me." "What reason did you have for coming to this country?"

"I ran away without the knowledge of my parents," was the reply. Father Evers then asked Schmidt what he knew about the report from Louisville, Ky., to the effect that he was under suspicion of knowing something about eight-year-old Anna Kellner, whose body was found buried in the basement of St. John's schoolhouse there while he was in that city, and Schmidt answered: "I don't know anything about it. If I did I would gladly confess all." Another arrest was made last night in the case. This time a physician, Dr. E. A. Muret, was taken into custody. According to the report at headquarters the physician is said to have performed an operation on the Aumuller woman, who was expecting to become a mother, from the effects of which she died. Schmidt did not throw the girl's head in the Hudson river with the rest of the dismembered body, but cut it in small pieces and burned it, according to evidence brought to light by the police.

Harry Rasico Is Indicted and Arraigned in Thirty Minutes.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 16.—Justice moved swiftly in the case of Harry Rasico, the Vincennes man who shot and killed his wife and baby, who were here with the woman's relatives. Within twenty minutes after the grand jury had convened two indictments were returned charging murder in the first degree. Ten minutes later Rasico was arraigned, pleaded guilty to both indictments, one charging murder of the woman and the other the murder of the child, and was remanded to jail until tomorrow, when the case will be disposed of. Rasico killed his wife because she had refused to return to her home in Vincennes after he had objected to her visiting her sister, Mrs. Luther Benton, of this city.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Norman E. Mack, former Democratic state chairman, has instituted a suit for criminal libel against John A. Hennessy, Governor Sulzer's political engineer. The suit grows out of statements made by Hennessy that Mr. Mack during the years of 1911 and 1912 collected approximately $150,000 for Democratic campaign purposes and made no account of it.

THAW SCORES WITH GOVERNOR FELKER

Fugitive Will Not Be Given Up Without a Hearing.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 16.—Representing the state of New York, Bernard Jacobs came to Concord and served on the governor the papers for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw on the charge of conspiracy. Jacobs tried to persuade Governor Felker to refuse a hearing to the Thaw forces, but failed and the hearing was set for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. This was a decided victory for Thaw, who, had the governor granted the executive warrant without hearing, probably would have been in New York state by this evening.

This act on the part of the complaining state brings the case to Concord for a hearing before the governor on the question of extradition tomorrow forenoon, provided the proceedings before the United States court in Littleton does not operate to keep counsel for both sides in that town. Governor Felker has notified the parties that he would meet them tomorrow morning providing the case could be brought before him by the filing of the papers in which New York asks the return of the prisoner.

A petition to Governor Felker urging a careful consideration of the Thaw case is being extensively signed in Concord and throughout the state of New Hampshire.

Doctors Use This for Eczema

Dr. Evans, Ex-Commissioner of Health, says: "There is almost no relation between skin diseases and the blood." The skin must be cured through the skin. The germs must be washed out, and so salves have long ago been found worthless. The most advanced physicians of this country are now agreed on this, and are prescribing a wash of wintergreen, thymol and other ingredients for eczema and all other skin diseases. This compound is known as D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

Dr. Holmes, the well known skin specialist writes: "I am convinced that the D.D.D. Prescription is as much a specific for eczema as quinine for malaria. I have been prescribing the D.D.D. remedy for years." It will take away the itch the instant you apply it.

In fact, we are so sure of what D.D.D. will do for you that we will be glad to let you have a $1 bottle on our guarantee that it will cost you nothing unless you find that it does the work.

OLD RIVALS TO CLASH SUNDAY

Arcadians Will Play First Game of Series at Connersville, Meeting Remington's Team.

TWO GAMES WERE ARRANGED

Regular Lineup Will be Used With Vedder in Box—Play Here October 5.

A two-game series with the Connersville team was arranged yesterday. The Arcadians will play there next Sunday and on October 5 the Connersville team will play here. Manager Remington of the Connersville team has been after the locals for a game ever since he reorganized the Grays and the agreement was reached yesterday. Both cities wanted the opening game of the series and the toss of a coin decided where the first game should be played. Remington won and the first game goes there.

Rushville and Connersville have always been great rivals in the baseball business and a large crowd will accompany the team there next Sunday. The Arcadians have hopes of winning and with Vedder in the box the Connersville team will know that they have been in a game.

The series should attract the attention of the fans. The season is drawing to a close and these two games may be the last this year. A week from Sunday the Y. M. I. team of Cincinnati comes here for their third game of the season. For this reason the Connersville game here will be played Oct. 5.

Since Remington has taken hold of the Connersville team it has dropped but two games and is traveling at a fast clip. The Connersville team has one win over the Y. M. I. team and the fans here know the class of ball put up by the Cincinnati team. Last Sunday the Connersville aggregation defeated the Cincinnati Muldoons for the second time this year. It is expected that Scott Cooley will pitch for Connersville. The Rushville team has always had trouble hitting Cooley and this alone should insure a good game. Because of the traction connections between here and Connersville a record crowd is expected. The Connersville team still plays at White Water park, the scene of many a baseball battle.

The Arcadians are out to take both games of the series. If a third game be necessary to decide the argument it will be arranged later. The local management is confident of taking both games. A double umpire system will be worked and Ump Kenet will be taken along. Rushville fans remember Quinn of old and the game will have to be on the square. The Arcadians will line up as last Sunday when they took the Superbas into camp by a 1 to 0 score in one of the best games of the season.

FIRST GUESTS ARRIVE TODAY

preside. An illustrated address will be made by Dr. Anton Bast of Copenhagen, Denmark.

All of the meetings in connection with the conference are open to the public. There were more homes offered for the entertainment of the visitors than could be used. Several changes had to be made at the last moment, because some people found they could not entertain because of unexpected circumstances.

NO PRAYER MEETING.

The regular prayer meeting will not be held in any of the churches this week because the Indiana conference is in session here.

Augustus Weaver, who has been visiting his brother, George N. Weaver, in North Morgan street, returned to his home in Cincinnati yesterday.

A LITTLE READY MONEY

MEANS much to the man or woman who must earn their own living. The need of it is always present: now and then it is needed very badly. Sickness or accident may stop your earnings for a while. You may want money to build a home, or to take advantage of a good investment. Opportunities often come to the man with ready money. It is the only sure protection against poverty or want.

HOW TO GET IT

BY saving a little every month. It isn't what you earn, but what you save—which increases your fund of wealth. Strange as it may seem, it is the wage earners of this country who save the most money. The wage earner works hard for what he gets and he knows its value. As the years slip by, they bring around a time when his power to earn grows less and his need of money grows more. That time will surely come in the life of each one of us. Are you preparing for it by opening a SAVINGS ACCOUNT with

GAME TOMORROW TO RING DOWN CURTAIN

Final One of Sunday School League Schedule Will be Played by Methodists and Flatrock.

CELLAR CHAMPIONSHIP ON

The curtain will be rung down on the Sunday school baseball league tomorrow afternoon when Big Flatrock and the Methodists will play the last game on the schedule. The game will settle whether or not the Methodists shall occupy the cellar. The Flatrock aggregation has enough games so that they can afford to lose one and still retain the championship. On the other hand, if the Methodists do not win they will have the cellar championship. In case they win tomorrow they will be tied with the Christians and Presbyterians for second place.

The Sunday school league has been a successful venture although it is new this year, and it has caused some speculation as to whether or not a Sunday school basketball league should not be organized. This is said to be considered by the Sunday schools.

A called meeting of the W. R. C. will be held Thursday afternoon to make arrangements for the inspection. The presence of all members is desired.
